Case Study: Rebranding with Signage

‘Danthonia is an exceptional company to work with. Their attention to detail and customer service is second to none. The sign system they provided is an extremely important part of our marketing.’

Michelle Van de Mortel
Director of Customer Service
TAFE NSW Hunter Institute

Signs are one of the most prominent and permanent forms of brand presentation. That’s why, when they rebranded, Hunter TAFE asked us to replace the ageing light box signs at their 15 campuses.

The suite of illuminated entry signs includes LED displays at the larger campuses. The marketing team was able to post messages via the web-based software before the signs even shipped.

Now the signs communicate with an audience that reaches from Gosford to Muswellbrook.

Newcastle

with just one click, the marketing team can post a promotional on all their signs at once.

Or...

they can send targeted messages to individual signs. It's a really quick way to get the message out.

Central control saves time.

LED Signs

These are signs you never need to worry about. They don't require any IT involvement from your end and we ensure they are always up and running. We are continuously improving the software, there are no ongoing costs to you and our five-year warranty backs up our promise of exceptional durability.

Everybody is impressed with our new LED sign, most of all the students. The sign matches the school buildings perfectly and creates a wonderful first impression.'

Monuments

We can bring your vision and brand to life with a showpiece that communicates the great educational opportunities at your school.

A tough, 'hammer-proof' coating protects the sign from significant impact as well as daily wear and tear.

'We entrusted the Brisbane Boys' College brand with Danthonia and they brought it to life with a spectacular monument. The sign is a wonderful addition to the school campus and it's making a strong impact on passing traffic and our college community.'

smart-looking 3D signage that avoids the added cost of posts and helps you establish a strong visual presence.

Sign Systems

It's easy to see when your signs need a face-lift, but not so easy to figure out where the new signs should go, what they should say and what the 'options' are. That is why schools and their architects ask us to take care of the signage. We conduct a general audit and then plan, design, manufacture and install a new suite of signs.

"Danthonia provided excellent, professional service all the way through the design process, the approvals, shipping and installation of the school's signage. They listened well and provided timely, helpful and informative expertise and responses to all our communications."
